CHEAP SHOTS

The festive holiday season is upon us once again, bringing delight to the hearts of young and old alike, and all in celebration of a single joyous event occurring nearly 2000 years ago: as everyone knows, that was the last time Air Force football had a winning season....The cardinal rule of the cooperate and graduate theory: Never ask a secondclassman where he got the car....Times change: In ten years, being caught in the tunnels has gone from 5 D's to a court martial; at that rate, "late to class" will be treason by 1990....Females are having an impact on Academy standards: a recent survey shows 48% of the cadets on Con Pro are due to frat cases....You know that things are slowing down when the most exciting thing that happens during the week is finding an upper lot parking slot....The Layman's Guide to Frat (Bogus Books, $4.95) reveals the following standards for fraternization CDB's:

- Holding hands at the noon meal formation- Class I;
- One slow dance- Class II;
- Two slow dances and holding hands - Class III;
- Two slow dances and holding hands with doolie of same sex- Class IV;
- Playing handball in a closed court - Class V;
- Playing handball in an open court - Class VI and letters of apology.

"We keep giving them team send-offs, but they keep coming back."

DODO is an unofficial humor magazine published in the interests of cadets at the United States Air Force Academy. It is published by cadets, a group in no way connected with the Department of the Air Force. Opinions expressed by the publishers and writers are their own and are not to be considered an official expression by the Department of the Air Force. The appearance of satirical advertisements in this publication, including inserts and supplements, does not constitute an endorsement by the Department of the Air Force of the products or services advertised. The articles appearing in DODO are fictitious, as are the characters, and any similarity between them and reality is purely accidental.

MAKING CORRECTIONS

DRIVE OUT HERE YOU
UGLY SMACK

Would you mind momentarily
discussing certain policy deviations I have detected in your physical behaviors?

The Old Man The New Way

YOU ARE THE GROSSEST
WAD I HAVE EVER SEEN IN MY LIFE

This interplay of meaningful ideas must center on certain nonstandard actions, not reflecting on the inner personality, but concentrating on the obvious departures from accepted norms.

In dealing with outward appearances, we must direct attention not only to the desired physical posture restraints, but address
the matter of how this posture is perceived by those outside your life-space.

Further divergence from established behavior patterns must be looked upon with the gravest concern.
In fact, the resultant disciplinary remedy could even be interpreted as unpleasant.

THOUGHT YOU'D GO OUT
FOR A LITTLE STROLL?

IF I EVER CATCH YOU OUT
HERE AGAIN, YOU'RE GONNA BE SICK

A FAIRY TALE

Once upon a time in a faroff land, in a Great Castle on a High Hill lived the People of Niktu. They were a Joyous People and Satisfied in Every Way. Everyone Loved and Respected Their King Niktu who ruled his Kingdom eagerly and fairly. The People of Niktu spent much of their Free Time playing Games. One of the Favorite Sports was Hoop-Jumping.

Often the Good King Niktu would spend Hours watching the Hoop-Jumping Teams. One day the King said: "I Wonder how our Hoop-Jumping Teams would Fare against Other Kingdoms?"

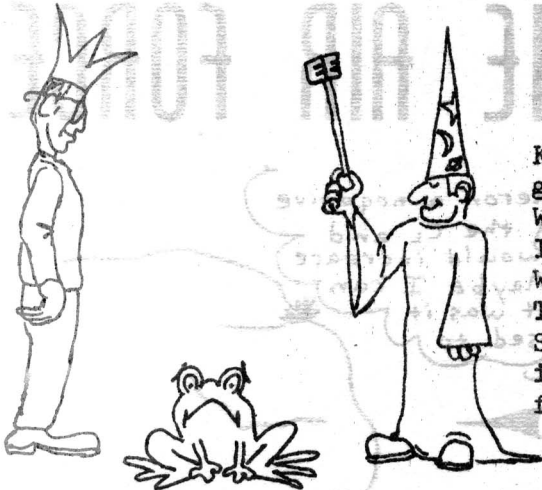

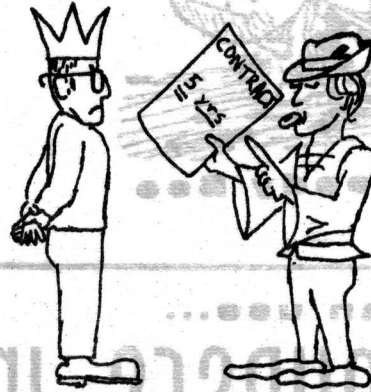

The People of Niktu became very Excited about seeing Teams from Other Lands and Each Week flocked to Niktu Stadium to watch the Hoop-Jumping Teams Compete. All Activity in the Kingdom stopped on the Day when the Hoop-Jumping Team played. Soon the Land of Niktu became known Far and Wide for their Talented Hoop-Jumpers. Everyone Loved their Hoop-Jumping Team and even The Great King Niktu vowed his Daughters would someday Marry Former Hoop-Jumpers.

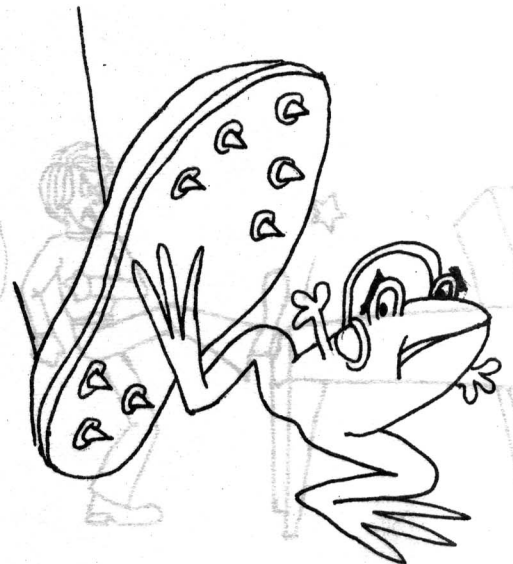

Soon the Other Kingdoms began to Practice Harder and Harder at Hoop-Jumping. The Niktites were very Proud of their Team and a Loss now and then only Boosted their Desire to become Better. But, alas, the Hoop-Jumpers lost More and More Games to Bigger and Stronger Teams. "What Shall we Do?" cried King Niktu who was as Upset as Anyone: "Our National Pride is at Stake."

"Just One More Game," answered the Hoop-Jumping Team Coach, "Then Our People will Again be Proud to Live in Niktu." But, alas (a very popular word in fairy tales), the Good King Niktu saw His Team Lose Again and Again. The Loyal Throng of Niktites Stopped Crowding the Gates to See Their Hoop-Jumping Team return from each Game.

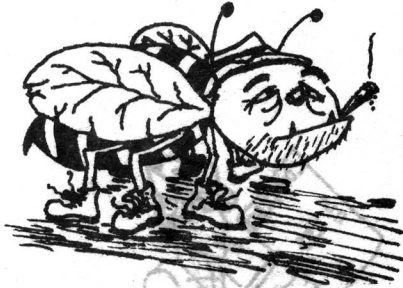

King Niktu was Beside Himself with Anger. He grew Tired of hearing the Coach tell What was Wrong with his Star Hoop-Jumpers. "Every Week It is the Same," cried the King to his Chief Wizard, "What is Left for me to Do?" "I can Turn your Hoop-Jumping Coach into a Frog," Suggested the Wizard. (In magic Kingdoms, it is much easier to turn coaches into frogs than fire them, saves paperwork.) And so it was.

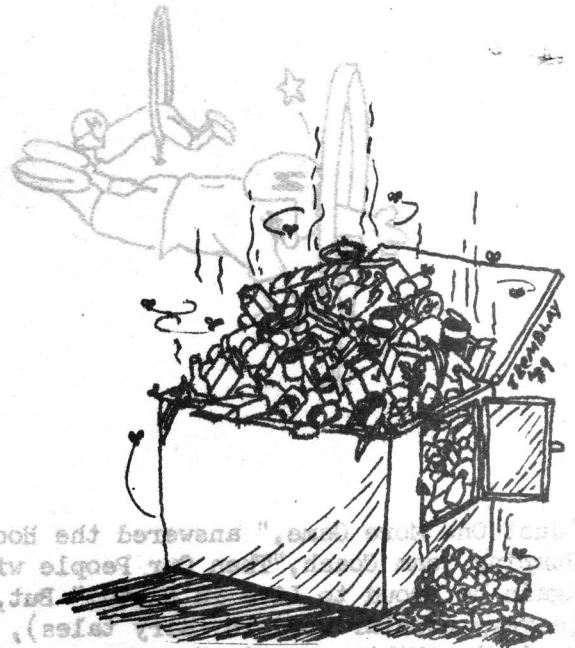

Now the People of Niktu Flocked to the Hoop-Jumping Games. The Team still Lost, but the People had Fun watching a Frog hop around the Sidelines with a Headset On.
