EDITOR'S PAGE

Well, well. And so begins yet another leg of the seemingly endless trek known as USAFA. Hopefully this year's DODO will make you a laugh a little and make your journey go by a little faster. Things are certainly different around here at THE DODO: St. Toke has graduated, leaving us to attempt to deal with the huge humor void he filled while he was here. Slow is gone (a month late, but that's a different story). And just to clarify the situation, I AIN'T SLOW! And while I hope to continue the humor that he fostered in this rag, there are also a few items of Slow's legacy that this new editor doesn't plan to follow. Some of these include 1) Getting booed off the stage during the Sport's Bar Comedy Night 2) Be my squadron training officer 3) Get fired as squadron training officer 4) See if I can get three-quarters of my class to hate me 5) graduate late. And if you are out there Lt. Malisow, forgive me for being so harsh, but after all, it's my job. And now . . . "for what it's worth"

-- Did you ever think that even as a 2 degree or firstie that you would still be running around Fairchild Hall on lesson 1 saying "Where in the hell is 5K27?"

-- Why do so many guys flock to the Mitchell Hall bathroom before a meal to fix their hair? And it's not just comb and leave. It's comb, wet, comb, style, pat it down, adjust, poof, blow, flip, wet, comb, comb . . . I've even seen some guys using (shudder) spray gel. Come on fellas, who are ya trying to impress?

Anyway. If any of you out there have any ideas, let me or one of the staffers know, or better yet, draw it up yourself and distro it to me in CS-07. Thanks. Have a day.

QUOTE OF THE MONTH:

This is the .44 automag, the most powerful handgun in the world. It can take your head clean off. Do ya feel lucky?

CQ POETRY BY VALET-MAN

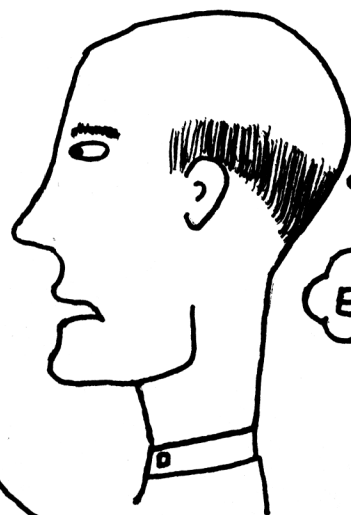

Here I sit
 In my chair
 Resting on
 My derrière.
 Answer phone.
 "He's not here."
 Never moving
 From my rear.
 Distro run
 Nothing there
 Back upon
 My derrière.
 All day long
 Hours pass
 Sitting here
 On my... chair.

OPS... THE FINAL FRONTIER. THESE ARE THE SUMMERS OF STARFLEET CADETS. THEIR 3-WEEK MISSION: TO SHADOW STRANGE, NEW OFFICERS, TO SEEK OUT NEW NIGHT CLUBS AND ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES. TO BOLDLY GO WHERE OTHER CADETS HAVE GONE BEFORE!

CADET PICARD. HOW WAS YOUR SUMMER? DID YOU ENJOY OPS?

REALLY? I WAS ON THE Enterprise THIS SUMMER! AFTER YOU REFUELED US WE WARPED TO THE NEUTRAL ZONE AND ENCOUNTERED ROMULAN WARBIRDS... BLAH, BLAH... FIRED PHASERS... BLAH... SAT IN CAPTAIN'S CHAIR... BLAH, BLAH...

ENGAGE!

NO, IT WAS BORING. ALL I DID WAS WATCH RERUNS OF "BEAVIS AND BUTT-HEAD" WHILE I RODE ON A CARGO FREIGHTER. WE NEVER EVEN LEFT THE SOLAR SYSTEM. BUT WE DID REFUEL THE Enterprise.

GEE. THAT'S GREAT. I'M SO GLAD YOU HAD SUCH A GOOD EXPERIENCE.

HOW TO TELL WHEN YOUR AOC STILL THINKS HE'S A CADET (OR HOW TO TELL IF YOUR AOC IS AN O-3-DEGREE OR O-4-DEGREE):

- a) RUNS EVERYWHERE
- b) GETS TIRED OF SALUTING CADETS LEAVING FAIRCHILD SO HE "POSTS" THEM
- c) SPENDS MORE TIME IN THE SQUAD THAN YOU
