editor's note.

Welcome to another year at camp usafa. Another year of eating at mitches, listening to ops center [REDACTED] up every song they play...another year of taking it up the [REDACTED] by the dean, failing the pkr, marching everyday to the bwahs of beat n blow. It's only been a few days and flight issue has already trained me and threatened to call my aoc -- I just went down there to ask what time they closed but they didn't tell me...I didn't have my falcon card. Wishing we had toff and optional furniture, and hoping to god I find a parking space in the upper lot. Playing hide n seek with the martec workers as I search sijan hall for a bathroom they're not cleaning. So many things to look forward to...but not in the mood. As I sit here and put the dodo together, I think of all the wonderful things we can still hate about the zoo - but I cannot forget the good memories we had in the past. We will never be the same, especially without g-lo. He was definitely the driving force for the dodo and the most valuable contributor we had in the past few years. Now that he's gone, [REDACTED] [REDACTED] I don't know what we're going to do. As a matter of fact, what am I doing here? I'm a firstie...I should be a god at usafa... I don't need to deal with all this. From this day forward, I pledge to slack off and basically do what every other firstie wants to do - graduate. with senioritis looming overhead, I should have an indifferent attitude about life so i'm just going to complacently sit here and leave the real work up to the future staff of the dodo. If the issues from now on just leave you wondering "where the [REDACTED] did we lose our sense of humor?", then don't point the finger at me...hey, I'm just a firstie waiting to graduate. So keep screwing up morning formation, ops center. Let's have marching practice everyday. Park in the wrong spot so [REDACTED] can give me a ticket. Close all the bathrooms so I [REDACTED] my pants. Just don't send me to flight issue again.

Cmd Center,

The OCF announcement invites all cadets to join us for "a time of sin and sharing"....I don't think this goes well with our theme as a spire group: could you please correct it to "a time of singing and sharing"?

Thanks!

It is your responsibility to be on time! We are NOT your parents! You must learn to be independent and well-trained officers...

...Yet you will tell us when to sleep, when to wake up, what to wear, how to wear it, when to clean our rooms, what to have on our desks, what to do on weekends, what to eat, when to eat, when to study, etc... and yet we need to be independent.

Top 10 reasons to be at USAFA on a Sat. night:

10. You're a smack
9. Your AOC failed every room in the SAMI
8. You're on probation but are too chicken to go OTF
7. Why go out when you can edge dress everything?
6. Why edge dress everything when you can sand down and re-finish your bed unit?
5. Sitting the Q
4. You have no social life
3. You were a moron and lent your car out to a 4*
2. You were even dumber and lent it out to a 3*
1. Col. Jordan closed the sign-out logs for no apparent reason

Brought to you by:

DZNUITZ / POOF! / -Bleep! / Pinto

Top 10 ways to kill yourself:

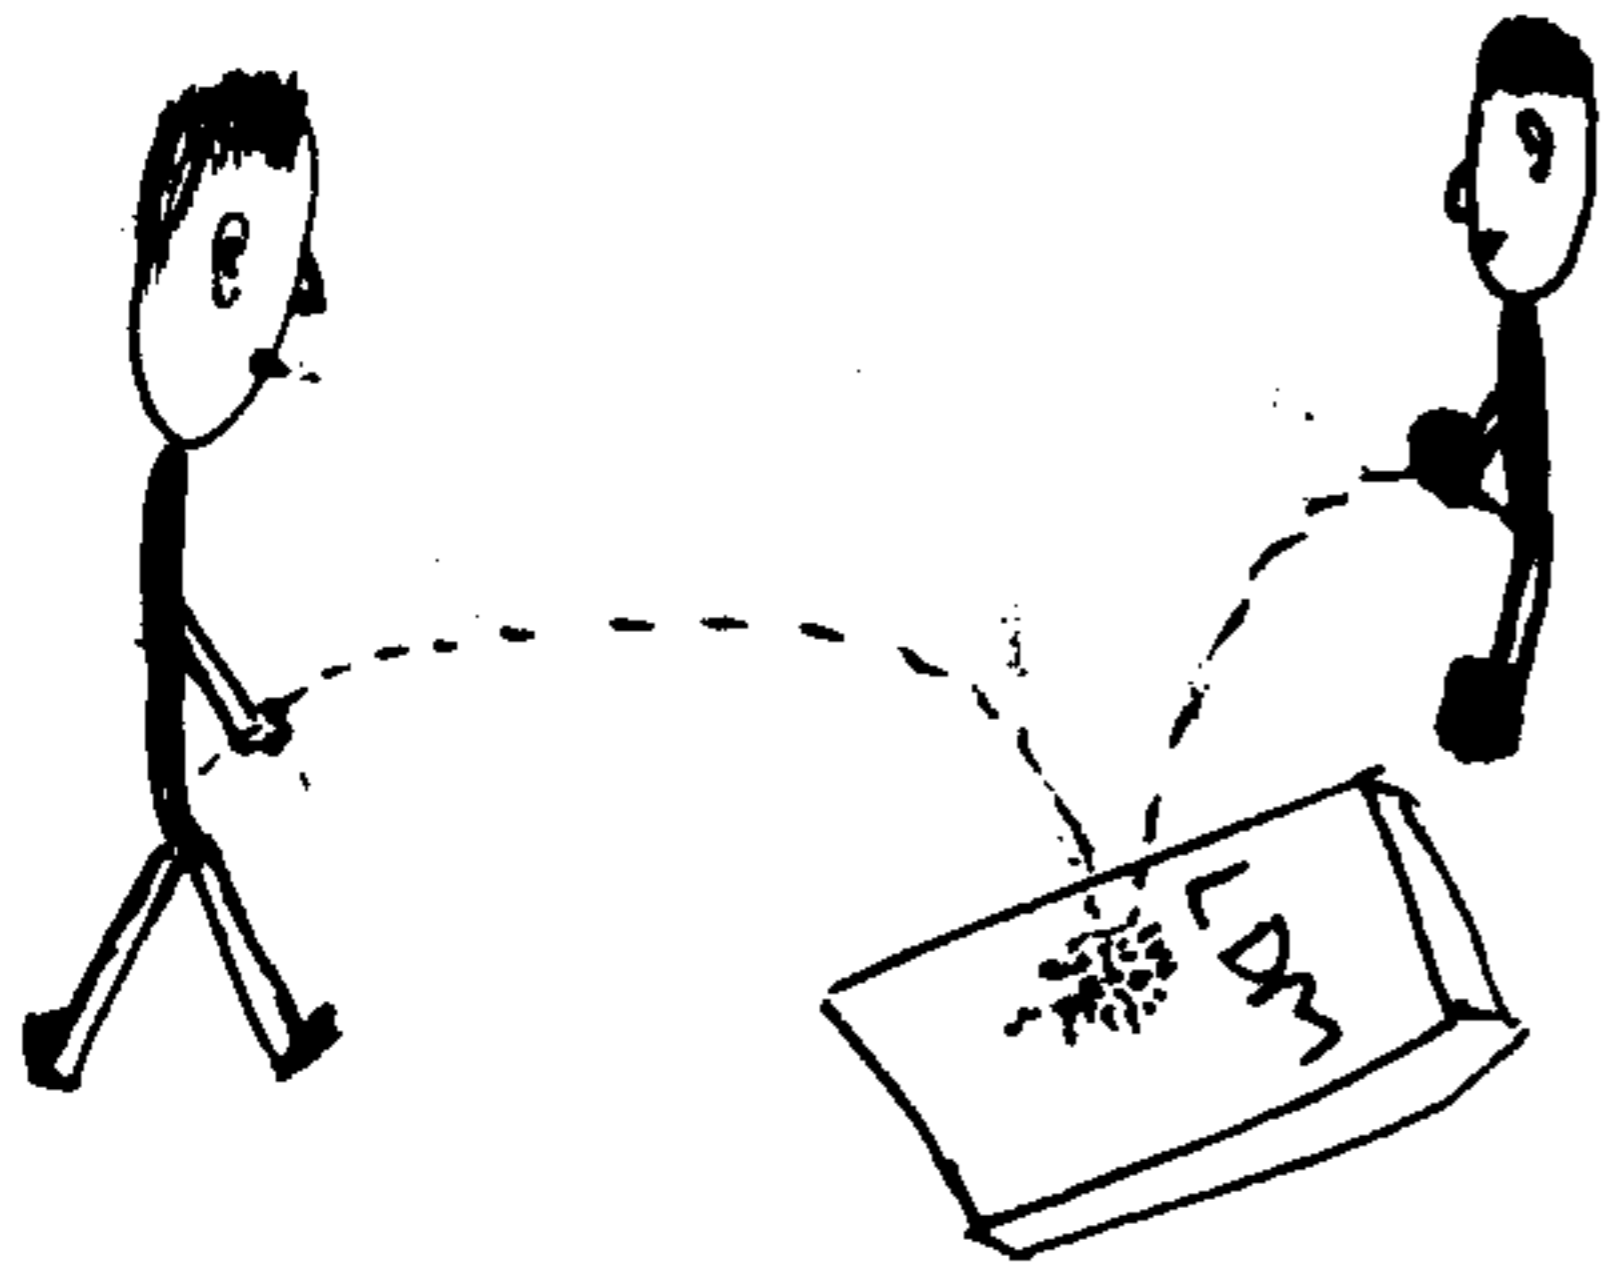

10. Drink edge dressing
9. Cut your wrists with an electric razor
8. Dive head first from bed unit repeatedly
7. Eat poisonous pea pods in CST
6. Light yourself on fire, jump into window screen
5. Rappel from the 5th floor
4. Have roomie repeatedly butt smash you to the head with your rifle
3. Tip a coke machine on yourself
2. Stick a pencil in your M-1, find a firing pin, and pull the trigger
1. Smoke crack with Roberto

"During Global Engagement cadets will learn about the real Air Force from outside airman, NCOs, & personnel."

I have the coolest keg in my place...
